

2008 MAGICAL MYSTERY TOUR REVIEWS:

"My wife and I went on the 2008 Mystery tour and were very impressed with Kathi and her associates. We can endorse them without reservation and would recommend anyone who has a chance to go on the 2012 tour to do so."

"The Magical Mystery Literary History Tour in 2008 was indeed incredible. It brought renewed life and awareness to the Kafka Project. The leaders were superb and extremely knowledgeable making the trip so memorable."

Helene W. Feldman, Ph.D.

"I got so much more from this trip than the brochure promised. I have made other trips which were organized around literary figures, but to have the author of "Kafka's Last Love" with us, reading passages from her book, explaining the significance of what we were seeing and answering our questions about Franz Kafka and Dora Diamant was truly priceless. Beyond that, were beautiful European landscapes, cultural history, good food in places where Kafka and Dora might very well have eaten -- and new friends."

"This was my first trip to Europe in my life, and it was indeed magical--the dream trip of a life-time. I didn't really know anything about Kafka before, but now he has come alive for me, and I am also one of "Kafka's last loves!"

"The 2008 Magical Mystery Tour was the experience of a lifetime. Not only was I able to see in person the sites related to author Franz Kafka, my sister and I traveled to the first time to the countries of our family's origin and learned so much. But the best part was the wonderful company supplied by Kathi Diamant and her crew. Imagine going to some of Europe's most fascinating locales, and instead of doing the generic tourist thing, visiting the most fascinating, out-of-the-way places with a small group of similar-minded, freewheeling intellectuals. Not only did we take the unbeaten path, we learned so much and thoroughly enjoyed the company of our fellow travelers."
